UNCLE SAM AND GREATER AMERICA

SINCE the return of prosperity under Protection as exemplified in the Dingley

Law, says The American Economist, many factories have been built and many new enterprises started in the Southern states. The people of the South are waking up to the value of manufacturing companies and are willing to make great efforts to secure the establishment of such industries in the South. A Commercial Club has been organized in Greenfield,

Tenn., for the purpose of promoting industrial enterprise. The dispatch which announced the formation of this Club added:

"The people of this community want manufacturing interests of any and all kinds, and they are now ready to offer liberal inducements to get them."

As soon as manufacturing industries became established in the South—and at the present rate of commercial progress that time is not far distant—the people of the South will wake up to a realizing sense of the value and necessity of a Protective Tariff. The hour has struck for the disappearance of a "Solid South" united to support Free-trade. The Southern people will not, merely for the sake of loyalty to a false theory long adhered to, consent to give up the great prosperity which has come to them through Protection in exchange for the industrial ruin which resulted from the "first step" toward Free trade taken in 1894.

The old controversy between Louisville

Commandery and Webb Commandery of Lexington was not settled at the meeting of Knights Templars in Louisville. Both Commanderies lay claim to being the first in order of establishment in Kentucky.

At the annual session at Louisville of the Kentucky State Medical Society Dr. C. W.

Aitken of Flemingsburg was elected Treasurer. Georgetown was chosen as the next place of meeting. The convention of 1900 will be held some time in May, but the exact date will not be set until later.

I consider it not only a pleasure but a duty

I owe to my neighbors to tell about the wonderful cure effected in my case by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I was taken very badly with flux and procured a bottle of this remedy.

A few doses of it effected a permanent cure.

I take pleasure in recommending it to others suffering from that dreadful disease.—J. W.

LYNCH, Dorr, W. Va. This remedy is sold by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.

The Court of Appeals affirmed the judgment of the Shelby Circuit Court in the case of the C. and O. Railroad against the state. The Railroad Company was fined $500 for failing to require colored passengers to ride in separate compartments as provided by the Separate Coach Law. This is the first criminal conviction against any railroad under the law.

An Epidemic of Whooping Cough.

Last winter during an epidemic of whooping cough my children contracted the disease, having severe coughing spells. We had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy very successfully for croup and naturally turned to it at that time and found that it relieved the cough and effected a complete cure.—JOHN E. CLY-

FORD, Proprietor Norwood House, Norwood,

N. Y. This remedy is for sale by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.

NEWS IN KENTUCKY.

No Extra Session Necessary.

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 20.—State officials are agitated because of a point raised by leading lawyers that an extra session of the legislature may be required to amend the state revenue law in order to collect that half million dollars of state and local taxes on national banks in conformity with a recent decision of the supreme court in the bank tax cases. Acting Gov. Worthington and Auditor Stone say the present law is ample and do not think an extra session will be necessary.

A Female Burglar.

OWENSBORO, Ky., May 20.—Mrs. Desie Morgan is in jail at Hartford on a charge of burglary. She broke into a store at Magan and carried thence a lot of goods to the house of a neighbor.
